We confirm that we started working with Bizz Community to receive dedicated leads in the area of applications, software and IT solutions for our software house operating under the brand Eternitty.

Our partnership mainly focused on acquiring clients from the US who are interested in specialized, custom IT solutions. The team at Bizz Community has been highly responsive and easy to communicate with - both during the lead generation process and even before we officially started working together. They quickly and effectively addressed all our questions and feedback.

The leads provided by Bizz Community matched the profiles we agreed on, which helped us save time and focus on real potential clients interested in our software house services. This made our sales efforts much more targeted and efficient.

We fully recommend Bizz Community as a reliable and professional business partner, especially for tech companies looking to reach clients in the US market.
